Strum: Shuffle Song form: 12-bar Blues in G Tempo: 160 bpm

Intro: [G] [G]

Deep [G] down in Louisiana close to [G] New Orleans,
Way [G] back up in the woods among the [G7] evergreens.
There [C] stood a little cabin made of [C] earth and wood,
Where [G] lived a country boy named [G] Johnny B. Goode.
Who [D7] never ever learned to read and [D7] write so well,
But he could [G] play his ukulele just like [G] ringin' a bell.

[G] Go, go! [G] Go, Johnny go! [G] Go! [G7] Go, Johnny, go!
[C] Go! [C] Go, Johnny go! [G] Go! [G] Go, Johnny, go!
[D7] Go! [D7] Johnny B. [G] Goode [G]

He [G] kept his ukulele in a [G] gunny sack,
And [G] sat beneath a tree beside the [G7] railroad track.
The [C] engineer could see him sittin' [C] in the shade,
[G] Strummin' to the rhythm that the [G] drivers made.
[D7] People passin' by would [D7] stop and say,
Oh, [G] my, how that little country [G] boy can play!

[G] Go, Go! [G] Go, Johnny go! [G] Go! [G7] Go, Johnny, go!
[C] Go! [C] Go, Johnny go! [G] Go! [G] Go, Johnny, go!
[D7] Go! [D7] Johnny B. [G] Goode [G]

His [G] mother told him, "Someday you will [G] be a man,
And [G] you will be a leader of a [G7] big old band."
[C] Many people comin' from [C] miles around,
To [G] hear you play your music when the [G] sun goes down.
[D7] Maybe someday your name will [D7] be in lights,
Sayin' [G] "Johnny B. Goode" [G] tonight!"

[G] Go, Go! [G] Go, Johnny go! [G] Go! [G7] Go, Johnny, go!
[C] Go! [C] Go, Johnny go! [G] Go! [G] Go, Johnny, go!
[D7] Go! [D7] Johnny B. [G] Goode [G//] [Gv^]
